DAILY TRIBUNE.

Friday Morning .... June 18, 1858.

[illegible] MONETARY and COMMERCIAL [illegible] Page.

A full report of the Republican State Convention will be found on the second page of this paper.

The News.

On our third page will be found a detailed account of the destruction of the steamer [illegible], on the Mississippi, and the loss of [illegible] lives.

The proceedings of the Republican State [illegible] fill a large space on our second [illegible]. They will repay a careful perusal.

[illegible] foreign news, by the Vanderbilt, is of [illegible]. A terrible eruption of Mt. Vesuvius [illegible], by which a number of lives [illegible], and property destroyed. The news [illegible] Vanderbilt has been brought from Eu[illegible] and telegraphed to this city in less than [illegible]

The Conspiracy Roorback.

[illegible] the Times reasserts his conspiracy [illegible] against Mayor Haines and mixes with [illegible] quantity of blackguardism aimed [illegible] Editors of this paper. We will not [illegible] with the creature. His [illegible] long been with the lewd women [illegible], and he never fails to use the columns [illegible] to shield them from prosecution or [illegible] public morals [illegible] and his largest ambition is [illegible] which will meet with their [illegible] and that of their patrons, and he does [illegible] with a vengeance. It is [illegible] that every towards Brown [illegible] of his animosity against that [illegible].

The Times fellow re-hashes his charges against the Mayor, but fails to produce a single iota of [illegible] to sustain them. The point in issue is, [illegible] that Mayor Haines entered [illegible] conspiracy with Deacon Ambrose [illegible] a man named Brown to convict [illegible] keepers of houses of ill-fame of licentious [illegible] by inducing Brown to their houses "to acquaint himself with the character of the inmates [illegible] by personal knowledge which would admit of no [illegible] that Brown, in pursuance of the plot, agreed to visit those houses, and prostitute himself in order to be able to testify against them in court, [illegible] the Mayor and Comptroller [illegible] with money out of the city treasury to defray the necessary expenses. This is the charge [illegible] to the Tribune of Wednesday a denial was given [illegible] of the story implicating the Mayor. [illegible] was made upon his own authority, and for right [illegible] to the contrary, we are bound to [illegible] that he spoke the truth. Nothing that appears in the column of charges [illegible] in the Grand [illegible], nor in the sworn evidence before the Grand Jury, furnished to it by the State's Attorney, in violation of law, nor the twaddle [illegible] of the Times' local, establish the charge of complicity upon the Mayor.

[illegible] after Mr. Haines assumed the Mayoralty, [illegible] consultation with the District and City [illegible] in regard to the best method of dealing [illegible] houses. They advised him to pursue [illegible] policy from that adopted by Wentworth, [illegible] of directing the police to make public [illegible] upon those houses, to have the keepers indicted before the Grand Jury and tried in the Recorder's court, and so bind over the inmates as witnesses. The Mayor consented to act upon the advice of his new advisers. He placed the matter in [illegible] of Ambrose, one of the Lieutenants of [illegible] evidence. Ambrose testified in open court [illegible] subject, as follows: Quest.—What were your instructions from the Mayor? Ans.—"No [illegible] instructions; he gave me a general order [illegible] after the houses; I had a man in the em[illegible] of the city for this purpose." Nothing in the [illegible] of his testimony shows, directly or indirectly, that the Mayor knew anything about the [illegible] of Brown; and Brown himself, under a [illegible], states nothing going to show [illegible] the Mayor or Comptroller had any con[illegible] of this Administration so much as by the Administration of James II., the last of the Stuarts, whose vacillating and uncertain policy led to that monarch's ignominious flight. In speaking to the boys out West, he characterized the struggle of 1856, which, though a defeat, was actually a victory—[cheers]—as the Republicans' Bunker Hill; in 1860 they would have their Saratoga and Yorktown. [Loud and prolonged cheering.]

Later from Cairo.

The St. Louis Republican, of the 16th, contains a dispatch from Cairo, of the 15th, which will be found below. It does not contain much additional to what we have published:

CAIRO, June 15, 1858.

Cairo is so far under water that it can hardly be seen or heard from. The water, on the inside, is now within a foot of the top of the Ohio levee, and lacks only two feet of getting over it on the outside, and the river is still rising. The water is three feet over Mound City, and the passengers by the Illinois Central have to be ferried for a considerable distance to the river.

The suffering here is fearful to contemplate, and the destruction of property is at present incalculable. The inhabitants have mostly been content with saving their lives, leaving their property to take care of itself. Piles of lumber, cattle, houses, fences, trunks, and everything generally, are floating about in a miscellaneous mess. The people of Paducah, hearing of our misfortune, sent down by the Thos. Scott, last night, a quantity of bread and meat, and some money, all of which came very opportunely, and we are infinitely obliged to our Paducah friends for their charitable remembrance of us. Most of the women and children have left, yet all the houses on the levee are full, and both the wharf boats are crowded with people, baggage and furniture.

The Woodford laid over here last night, and kindly accommodated a number of citizens and strangers with lodgings for the night. The men in town have no chance to sleep, thinking it enough to accommodate the ladies.

The news was brought last night that about a thousand feet of the Illinois Central track some three miles above Cairo, are washed away. The break in the Levee was three hundred feet in length yesterday. The water roared like a young Niagara, and could be heard for miles. The Agent of the Cairo Company did everything in his power, but all efforts are unavailing.

The Woodford lies over here to wait for this morning's train and mail. She reports a seven foot rise out of the Kentucky river, simultaneous with a rise in the lower rivers. The Wabash is running out strong and the Tennessee is also rising, but the Cumberland is falling. The weather here is clear and warm.

The citizens of Cairo (those who were still remaining here) held a mass meeting yesterday afternoon, and appointed a Vigilance Committee of ten, to protect lives and property, with plenary powers.

There have been no lives lost by the water, except that of an Irishman named Michael Lafferty, who fell out of a skiff and was drowned yesterday afternoon.

A dispatch from Cairo of the 16th, says the river rose one inch the evening previous. Five or six inches more will bring the water over the Ohio levee at the Springfield Block.

The Flood.

A rise of two inches from P. M. of Monday to 5 A. M. of Tuesday was all that the mark indicated. After that time, and during the day, it was very doubtful whether there was any change. We hope to be able to announce to-morrow that the water has begun to subside, though it must be some days before it is brought within the banks of the river.

The news from Missouri is cheering. Up to last night the water had fallen three feet from its extreme height, and was still falling.—St. Louis Republican, 16th.

ILLINOIS NATURAL HISTORY SOCIETY.—A convention will be held at Bloomington on Wednesday, June 30th, for the purpose of organizing the "Natural History Society of Illinois." This convention is called in compliance with the resolutions passed at the last session of the State Teachers' Association.

CITY ITEMS.

THE LATEST GOOD 'UN.—Why are hoops like an obstinate man? Because they often stand out about trifles.

THE WEATHER.—Yesterday was the warmest of the season, the thermometer indicating from 85 1-2 to 96 deg. in different parts of the city.

THE PAPERS.—Ostrand at the Tremont House, receives the New York dailies at 10 o'clock every evening.

AN AURORA ROGUE.—Capt. Bradley arrested Franklin Brown upon a charge of stealing $30 from Mr. French, in Aurora. The prisoner was sent to Aurora for trial.

SONS OF MALTA ATTEND.—A meeting of Brahmin Lodge No. 1, I. O. S. M., will be held at 9 o'clock this morning. A full and punctual attendance is requested, as business of great importance will be transacted.

PERSONAL.—Among the arrivals at the Richmond House, we notice the following:

Ex-Lieut. Gov. Church and family, New York; Ex Gov. Thurston, Rhode Island; Hon. A. H. Laflin, New York; Maj. Shackfall Mackie, U. S. A., and C. W. Rockwell, Esq., and family, New York.

THEATRICAL.—North's theatre was again well filled last evening, a large proportion of the audience being children. The juvenile performers are a great source of amusement to their fellow lookers on, and seem to be fully appreciated by the same. To-night Mast. Marsh takes his benefit with the "Serious Family" and "Toodles" for the bill, and we anticipate a well filled house, as these pieces are among their best.

THE PHILOSOPHY OF APPEARANCE.—PERSONAL FRIEND.—"I say, Jones how is it that your wife dresses so magnificently, and you always appear out at the elbow?"

JONES (impressively and significantly)—"You see, Thompson, my wife dresses according to the Gazette of Fashion, and I dress according to my ledger!"

(Thompson smells a rat, and immediately tries to get his little account settled—and don't succeed.)—Punch.

TO THE AUDUBON CLUB—THE GAME LAW.—We publish the following for the benefit of the Audubon Club and whom it may concern:

CHICAGO, June 17, 1858.

EDITORS TRIBUNE—As a subscriber to your paper I wish to make a few remarks relative to our game law. I find it very strictly enforced as to the fall season, but in summer, when the young birds can not fly, men go out from the city on the Sabbath and kill them a month sooner than the law permits. I understand we have a sporting club in our city, and ask what measures they are taking to protect the young as well as the old birds? If our sportsmen want shooting they must enforce the law. If you think this worthy a place in your popular paper I promise you the material for a game dinner on the 2d of August.

AN OLD SPORTSMAN.

EDITORS TRIBUNE:—Dear Sir: Being a subscriber to your excellent paper, and in these hard times having so loose change but just enough to pay my subscription, therefore I take the liberty of asking you to suggest to the Chicago Sporting Club the propriety of using some means of preventing poachers (particularly Sunday ones) from killing Prairie Chickens before the day appointed by law. If the above meets your approbation, and you give it a place in your paper I promise you on the honor of a Sportsman that you shall have a present of some of the best Prairie Chickens that your correspondent can knock down on the 2d of August.

A SPORTSMAN.

Stormy Session of the Board of Trade.

Pursuant to a public notice, printed in the various papers of the city, the members of the Board of Trade assembled at 11 a. yesterday, to take into consideration the practicability of furnishing themselves with daily telegraphic reports of the New York, Buffalo and Oswego markets; the same to be posted upon the black board as soon as received, for the benefit of all members who might choose to examine them. After the President had called the Board to order, and stated the special object of the meeting, a resolution, embodying the above conditions, was offered by Mr. Bryne. After the reading of the resolution by the Secretary, Mr. Steele said he presumed that the proceedings of the Board were to be conducted on strict parliamentary principles, in which case debate upon the resolution would be in order. For his part he could not see that the resolution provided any means of paying for those despatches, and he thought it would be wise first to ascertain the cost, and then see if it was practicable to have them. Mr. Tiffany moved that the resolution be referred to the Board of Directors, with power to act. Upon this motion half a dozen members, with conflicting opinions, endeavored to speak all at the same time, amidst loud thumpings from the desk and cries of "order! order!" At length Mr. Holt obtained a hearing, and said he hoped the motion would prevail, as a large portion of the Board were lumbermen and had no interest whatever in this movement, and he was certain if this new expense was put upon there by a vote of what few members of the Board were present they would withdraw in a body, when on the other hand if the resolution were submitted to the Directors, and they deemed it best to adopt its provisions, the lumbermen would cheerfully pay their share of the expense. Again confusion reigned for a few minutes, a number attempting to be heard at once. Upon order being restored, it was proposed to refer the resolution to the Directors with instructions to ascertain the cost and practicability of obtaining the reports, and report to the Board at some future meeting for their final action. Before this suggestion could be acted upon, a motion to table the resolution and its amendments was put and lost. Some one then made a motion to adjourn, which was put and lost.

A Canada Man.—"I move we have a report from Montreal also."

A Lumberman.—"I move we have a report from Saginaw and Green Bay."—[Laughter.]

A Voice.—"I move the whole thing be laid upon the table!"

Another Voice.—"I hate to see sensible men acting like natural born fools!"

The question of submitting the resolution to the Directors, that they might ascertain the cost, &c., was put and lost. Then the motion made by Mr. TIFFANY to submit the resolution to the Directors, with full power to adopt or reject it, was put amidst the utmost confusion, and lost. An amendment of the Montreal market was accepted and the resolution put upon its final passage which resulted in its passage. Mr. Holt desired the ayes and nays, that the Board might know who were attempting to play the gag game. Hisses and cries of hah! A motion was then made to adjourn which was carried with a shout.

THE CHICAGO MUSICAL INSTITUTE.—The annual session of the Chicago Musical Institute is now in session at the rooms of the Musical Union. Portions of each day are allotted to various departments of musical study and continual practice in church, glee and chorus singing is had.

The last week of the term, or from June 21st to the 26th, inclusive, will be the Festival Week. During this week there will be forenoon, afternoon and evening sessions, under the principal direction of Mr. Bradbury, (who is not expected to be present during the previous part of the term) and the exercises, lectures, etc., are intended to constitute a short course which will be valuable not only to the regular members of the Institute, but also for the benefit of teachers, choristers and choir singers who cannot attend the full course. In course of the Festival Week, Mr. E. Andrews M. D., will deliver three lectures upon the Vocal Organs, illustrating his subject by appropriate diagrams, etc., prepared expressly for the occasion. During this week there will be an exhibition or matinee, illustrating the progress of the regular members of the Institute, and on Friday evening June 25th, a public concert in which all will take part.

Mr. Bradbury, whom all our readers know as a first-class musician and composer, will be here the last of the week.

"A GRAVE IN THE MUDDY WATERS."—Yesterday forenoon Christina Foster, aged about twenty years, was arrested and locked up for attempting to drown herself in the North Branch, near the Fond du Lac depot. A policeman was notified that she had gone to the dock threatening to commit suicide, and he followed her. When he arrived she had placed a couple of boards, so that she might glide easily into the water, and was holding on to the ends of the planks so as not to wet her feet. The officer managed, after a sharp scrimmage, to get hold of her hand, and finding her determined to keep up the fight he soused her into the water, which had the effect to render her pugilistic propensities dormant. She stated in the Police Court that some time since she went on a visit with a servant girl in a family residing next to the house where she was employed; that she became intoxicated; was arrested and fined, and having no money was sent to Bridewell. On her release she was unable to find employment and unwilling to prostitute herself, she determined to commit suicide. She was released upon promise of future good behavior.

RECORDER'S COURT.—A CARD FROM THE GRAND JURY.—David B. DeForrest, indicted for setting fire to his own house, came into court yesterday and pleaded guilty. Henry Johnson and John McLain, indicted with DeForrest, as his tools in the commission of the arson, also pleaded guilty. DeForrest's object in burning his house was to obtain the insurance money. The punishment is imprisonment in the penitentiary not less than one nor more than ten years. The court deferred sentencing the prisoners.

Henry Crimm and Valentine Shoemaker, indicted for entering and robbing a shoe store in West Kinzie street, were tried and convicted, the Jury fixing their term of imprisonment at three years each. They stole $200 worth of goods.

Michael Tieman was tried upon an indictment for passing counterfeit bank bills. It was proved that he passed a two dollar counterfeit bill on the Agricultural Bank of Pittsfield, Massachusetts, at an Ice Cream Saloon in Clark street; also, that Marshal Rehm and officer Kauffman found Tieman in a saloon in the act of passing another counterfeit bill, and that on searching him a quantity of similar bills were found in his pockets. In consequence of a defect in the indictment the prisoner was discharged.

The Grand Jury, having completed the business before them, was discharged for the term.

The Grand Jurors publish the following card in relation to charges made against them that they have permitted improper influences to control their action:—

The undersigned members of the Grand Jury having understood that there are reports in circulation, which intentionally or otherwise, reflect upon the action of this Jury, we would say in reply thereto, that there has been no outside influence to bias or in anyway prejudice us in our decisions. "That no man, high or low, in or out of office has been permitted to appear before us and make any statement," except those who had a right thus to do. So far as this Jury having invited Mayor Haines to appear before them with a view to obtain his opinion in reference to certain complaints that had been made against different parties, the assertion is untrue, without any knowledge on the part of either one of the Jury as to the nature of his business, he did not appear before them and under oath testify in reference to complaints against a certain class of our inhabitants, which cases so far as any action on the part of this Jury was concerned, had been disposed of two days previous. Realizing that "the safety of the citizens and the public good depend upon the independence and the purity of the judiciary," we as Grand Jurors have endeavored faithfully to discharge our duty, and in every instance have been governed only by the evidence before us, without reference to the opinion of any one:

REFRESHING.—The glass of soda from the [illegible] Fountain, we had at Thayer's drug store, corner of Randolph and Dearborn streets. Syrups of every imaginable flavor, and fresh Congress Water constantly on [illegible]

CAPRICIUS.—A Montreal newspaper thus discourses upon a recent concert given in that city by Thalberg and Vieuxtemps: "Thalberg was gigantic in harmony and superb in originality. His Fantasia on Massaniello is absolutely overpowering. Nothing can surpass his execution or equal his plaintiveness. All hearts like that of Danae seemed subjugated to the shower of gold of his fingers. Strong men wept at hearing his 'Prayer,' and were foolish enough to smile at their own weakness when he passed to the 'allegro moderato.' In his soft passages he had a nightingale in his right hand and an Æolian Harp in his left, while, in his 'fortissimo,' harmonious thunders pealed forth about him in all directions."

When the brilliant critic, who penned the above astonishing description, hears Thalberg's new sensation—the Banjo—it will be necessary to hoop his head in order to prevent a terrific explosion. Unless he is kept in a cool place, he may startle the world with a fearful epic, an infliction worse than the "wet season."

JOHN SMITH.—This popular individual, who has been in so many distinguished positions, has been drowned, frozen to death, and hung, has been in the watch house, in the courts, and in the chain gang, has been to parties by waiters, and in prison among robbers, lalea brethren, &c., appears to have a ubiquity even greater than has been hitherto supposed. A writer in the New York Evening Post claims that John is familiar with all countries and has a habitation and a name in all lands. He gives the following as his various designations:

Latin—Johannes Smithius.
Italian—Giovanni Smithi.
Spanish—Juan Smithas.
Dutch—Hans Schmidt.
French—Jean Smeets.
Greek—Ion Skmitton.
Russian—Ionloff Schmittowski.
Polish—Ivan Schmittiweiski.
Chinese—Jahn Shimmit.
Icelandic—Jahne Smittson.
Welsh—Jehn Seminid.
Tuscarora—Ton-Ta-Smittia.
Mexican—Jean F'Smitix.

DAN RICE'S GREAT SHOW.—This afternoon and evening, the American humorist will appear, and give his inimitable conversations. His magnificent grey horse, "Excelsior," the comic mules, and all the other animals will be forthcoming, blended with an equestrian entertainment of the most recherché, and, at the same time, most unexceptionable character. Since Mr. Rice has been here, he has had no reason to take umbrage at the amount of patronage bestowed upon him; and, at the same time, he has abundant reason to be proud of the classes he has succeeded in drawing under a tent.

To-morrow night, a complimentary benefit, gotten up by some of our leading citizens, will be tendered to Dan Rice.

WHITE BREAD.—Next to good flour, yeast is of greatest importance in making white bread. With some kinds of yeast it is impossible to make bread white, no matter how pure the flour may be. Bread made from the Hydraulic Mills Double Extra Flour, (Clinton street, between Lake and Fulton,) and potatoe yeast, will be not only light but as white as it is possible for bread to be. A receipt for making Potatoe Yeast will be found in the "Hydraulic Mills Family Bread Maker," a pamphlet containing valuable directions and receipts for making Bread, yeast, &c., which will be sent gratis to any one who will send their address to the Mill, or to S. N. Mitchell, P. O. Box 523. je15-2t

CONTRARY TO THE GENERAL RULE.—In times of scarcity those who have a good supply of any article of prime necessity are too apt to put the price up; not so, however, with Tappen, the Clothier, at 108 Lake Street, who has the only really nice stock of fine and desirable styles of furnishing and prime goods for men's wear, in Chicago [illegible] who have looked around, as every one in duty bound to do in these times, know this to be so, and that Tappen sells at New York prices. The result is his establishment is crowded with buyers, morning, noon and night.

WOOD'S HAIR RESTORATIVE.—This wonderful preparation is having an extensive sale in all parts of the Union. It is one of the few patent medicines which are now sold over the country, that are really what their inventors claim for them. Wherever it has had a fair trial, the result has been precisely as Wood predicts. It has never failed to turn the white hair back to its original color, where the directions have been strictly followed, and in numerous cases it has restored the hair upon heads that had been bald for years. It is not pretended that it will make the hair grow in every case, but where it fails there is certainly no remedy. The restoration of the hair has been effected in so many instances where the case seemed utterly hopeless, that it is certainly worth while for all who have lost their hair to try the experiment of using a bottle or two of Wood's Restorative.—Moline Workman.

DIED.

On the 14th inst., at Glencoe, Cook county, Illinois, Mr. J. F. GARSIDE, of this city, aged 32 years. For many years foreman in the "Democrat" Job Office.

BY TELEGRAPH.

LATER FROM EUROPE.

Arrival of the Steamship Vanderbilt.

ST. JOHNS, N. F., June 17.—The U. S. mail steamship Vanderbilt, Captain Higgins, which left Havre on the morning and Cowes at 12 minutes past 7 o'clock on the 9th inst., passed Cape Race at 5 o'clock this morning. She has 195 passengers, and the French and English mails. Her advices from London and Liverpool are of the day of sailing. The Vanderbilt was intercepted off Cape Race by the news yacht of the New York Associated Press.

The news by this arrival is of a highly interesting nature, embracing later and important news from India, and accounts of a fearful eruption of Mt. Vesuvius, besides other items of moment which are appended.

The royal mail steamship Persia, which sailed from New York at 4:30 P. M. on Thursday, the 27th of May, arrived at Liverpool on Sunday, the 6th of June.

INDIA.

A week's later news has been received in England, via Alexandria and the telegraph from Malta. Sir Hugh Rose had met the rebels and defeated them with great slaughter: no less than 400 having been left dead on the field. The rebels were collecting rapidly at Calpee, where they were making another stand against the British. Nena Sahib seems to have become somewhat alarmed for his own safety, and attempted to escape to Central India. His retreat was, however, cut off. A detachment of Europeans and Ghoorkas had been repulsed by the rebels in the [illegible].

CHINA.

From China, also, later dates had been received by telegraph from Malta. They embrace, however, nothing of a startling nature. A dispatch from Pekin directs the Plenipotentiaries of the Western Powers to return to Canton, as the new Imperial Commissioner is gathering his forces to re-capture the city, and was expected to succeed.

ENGLAND.

The London papers contain interesting articles in reference to the outrages on American vessels in the Gulf of Mexico. The Dispatch says nothing of any further proceedings in relation thereto, and the presumption is that nothing had occurred.

The English papers also contain interesting details of the recent experiments made with the Atlantic Telegraph Cable of the proposed course of action of the expedition for laying it between Ireland and New Foundland.

ITALY.

There had been an extraordinary and fearful eruption of Mount Vesuvius causing the loss of many lives and a large amount of property.

The French Mediterranean squadron, which the advices per the Europa stated to have sailed from Toulon with sealed orders, had concentrated in the Adriatic.

FRANCE AND SPAIN.

Affairs between France and Spain look complicated. The French Ambassador had returned to Paris. The reason is not stated. The insurrection in the Island of Candia was increasing in strength. Five other districts of the island have risen against the authorities.

M. De Pene, the editor of the Figaro, who was wounded in the duel with M. Hyenne of the army, was much improved in health.

[Capt. Higgins of the steamship Vanderbilt delivered European advices to the news yacht of the New York Associated Press, off Cape Race, in 7 days and 10 hours, and the news was placed upon the wires in less than 7 days and 20 hours from Southampton. This is quicker by more than 24 hours than European intelligence has ever been received in the United States, but may be beaten by Capt. Judkins of the Persia, who intends to place his news in this city on Saturday, 7 days from Liverpool, in [illegible] for the evening papers. We shall see. Should the anticipations of the friends of the Atlantic Telegraph be realized, we shall be able to receive daily and hourly intelligence from all parts of Europe on and after about Monday week.]

From Washington.

WASHINGTON, June 16.—The Senate confirmed to-day all the nominations of the President including that of Fare, as Marshal of Kansas.

Much of the session was occupied in the consideration of the Indian treaties.

The Washington Times' correspondence says the Pacific mail contract was extended to-day one year from the 1st of October, for $336,000 per annum.

Sir William Gore Ouseley has completed his arrangements to leave Washington, and is awaiting orders from his Government.

Among the post masters confirmed by the Senate are the following:—James J. Farran, Cincinnati; Benj. Harrington, Cleveland; Samuel Hunt, Jacksonville, Ill.; Peter Sweet, Peoria; Bushrod B. Howard, Galena; Austin Brooks, Quincy; Eli B. Baker, Dixon; Russel C. Mix, Aurora; Bushnel B. Carey, Racine, Wis. F. Porter, Harrisburgh, Pa.

Barton [illegible] Strether, Chicago, Illinois, was confirmed Collector.

The following surveyors of customs were also confirmed:—Thomas Benneson, Quincy; Dan. Varner, Galena; S. Jefferson Sherlock, Cincinnati.

Archbishop Hughes and the Albany Statesman.

ALBANY, June 17.—Archbishop Hughes attended here before the Grand Jury as an applicant for an indictment against the Albany Statesman for a libel contained in certain letters exposing a society which it claims exists under the name of the "Circle of Jesus." After hearing the Archbishop's testimony, they refused to indict, on the ground that if the matter is libellous against the Arch Bishop, it should be prosecuted in New York, where he lives, and not at the expense of Albany county. The Archbishop then offered to bear the expenses of the prosecution, but the bill was refused by the Grand Jury.

From Albany.

ALBANY, June 17.—The argument before the Court of Appeals on the Ruloff murder case, which involves the question as to whether conviction for murder can be had where the body is not found, was commenced to-day. The court dismissed the appeal on the ground that judgment had not been entered and sentence pronounced in the court below. The case was therefore sent back to the lower court. Mr. Finch, of Ithaca, for defence; Dan'l S. Dickinson for people.

A fire broke out this A. M. in the lower part of the city, which destroyed 7 houses. Loss not large.

Anniversary of Bunker Hill.

BOSTON, June 17.—The anniversary of the Battle of Bunker Hill was observed to-day by a military display in Charlestown and Boston, and a firemen's turnout in Chelsea. The Monument Association also held its annual meeting, and re-elected the old board of officers.

Railroad Election.

CLEVELAND, June 17.—The Cleveland and Toledo Railroad Company's election yesterday resulted in the re-election of the entire old board of directors and president.

Southern Eloquence.

The eloquence which is received with most favor at the South, is of a decidedly Asiatic character, and will not bear transplanting. The "Laudator" of Everett delivered a speech not long ago which considerably astonished us, who are not used to that sort of thing. His memorable effort has been equalled if not eclipsed, however, by the performance of Mr. McCreery, of Kentucky, a member of the Board of Visitors at West Point, who has just distinguished himself by a flowery address to the graduates of that celebrated institution. His oration was of that sort which is the delight of all classes South of the Potomac, and which is abhorred by gods and men, North of it! We cannot afford much space to this singular production, but a brick from the label will give a fair idea of the whole. Mr. McCreery's per-oration affords a good specimen of his peculiar style of oratory, though we cannot consider it eminently happy in its allusions. He is addressing a few words of farewell to the graduates in behalf of their Alma Mater, and, in illustration of what is meant to be a touching picture of a mother's love, he unfortunately dwells upon the maternal devotion so often lavished upon persons convicted of capital offences—

> "No matter where he may go, her anxiety and solicitude will follow him—friends may forsake him, and fortune may frown upon him, but she will cling to him still—she will supply his wants with her last dollar, and feed his hunger with her last crust, and though he should die the death of a felon and expiate his crimes upon the gallows, she will hover like an angel around him in his last extremity, breathe upon him her blessing, water his grave with her tears, and the anguish of a broken heart will attest the undying devotion of the mother to the child. Wherever you may go, and whatever you may do, that mother enthroned on this rock-bound shore will watch your upward or your downward course."

Another Springfield Horse Show.

The brilliant success of former Horse Shows at Springfield (Mass.,) has induced arrangements for another, to be held September 14, 15, 16 and 17, next, and on a more liberal scale even than heretofore. A new and splendid 60 acre park, with both a mile and half mile track, is set apart as the exhibition ground. The premiums offered amount to three thousand dollars, covering 24 different classes of animals—thoroughbreds, stallions of various kinds, mares, colts, spans, fancy horses, family horses, farm horses, saddle ditto, ponies, etc.—and embracing two premiums of $200 each, eleven of $100, two of $75, and thirteen of $50. A splendid State prize banner, costing $100, is to be presented to the Agricultural Society of the State that contributes the largest number of valuable animals.

George Dwight is Chief-Marshal, and J. N. Bagg, Secretary of the Association, Springfield, Mass., to whom all communications should be addressed.

From Kansas.

[Special Correspondence of the Chicago Tribune.]

LAWRENCE, June 11, 1858.

The trial of Lane is now fixed for next Monday, and it is hoped there will be no further postponement for the sake of all concerned. The General is greatly prostrated by his wound, but is gradually improving. The two young men who shot Lane are admitted to bail, to appear before the District Court in October next. Wm. S. Wells, who was arrested last week on the charge of being one of the murderers in Linn county, was recognized by only one of the wounded men now here; but before the trial was held, Judge Cato issued a writ of habeas corpus in his favor, and he was taken before the Judge at Lecompton yesterday. As the witnesses for neither party were present, the case is postponed one week—meanwhile the Sheriff has Wells in his keeping. This Wells is guilty of divers other offences that ought to imprison him if he is not convicted of murder. He was a prominent actor in the Oxford frauds, and bore dispatches to Oxford the night of the first day of voting, and back to Lecompton again the next day with further returns. He admits that he was within two or three miles of the scene of murder at the time it was committed; but claims that he can prove an alibi when on trial. Although many circumstances at present seem to establish his guilt, we hope he may be fully exonerated, if he is innocent. Our county jail was opened again last night by some unknown band, and all the prisoners walked out. Two of them went to the Commercial voluntarily and took lodgings, at a late hour, and were roaming at large during the forenoon, while the jail was being repaired; but they were seized and again locked in their cells this afternoon. The others have not been apprehended. It is probable that tools were passed in to the prisoners through a window, with which they worked their way out.

Complaints are often made that nothing can be accomplished by adhering to the laws. It is said we arrest men for crimes, taunt them awhile and then let them go—perhaps help them to money to leave with. This state of things would seem to justify to some extent the more summary proceedings that have been held in other parts of the Territory, among which may be named the hanging of Warren Claywell one week ago to-day, at Le Roy on the Neosho, for horse stealing. We fear such instances will have to be repeated, before property and life can be secure. At the same time, there is some extenuation for the inefficiency of our civil authorities. There is not a dollar in either the county or Territorial treasury, and we cannot possibly hire men to watch our jails for a long time, without pay, or a certainty of getting it soon. Owing to this misfortune, our jails are not guarded nights, and in our county the jail has been opened by burglars twice within a few days.

Gov. Denver, Gov. Robinson, Judge Wright, late of Indiana, Edmund Babb, of Cincinnati, Mr. Hargrove, (one of the wounded,) Mr. Whiting, of Lawrence, and others, left yesterday for "the seat of war" at the South. They go to learn the fullest details as to the crimes committed—the causes and the remedy—and will be absent about ten days. Perhaps they may be styled the "Peace Commissioners" of the border war, but we can judge them better after they have acted. One thing is known, however, in advance; that is, that they went away with remarkable faith in the efficacy of "law and order" proceedings to subdue the fermenting elements both in Missouri and in Kansas. We predict that a change will come over the spirit of some of their dreams before they return, in that respect, and that if they solicit an interview with Montgomery, he will satisfy them that he has higher aims and more ennobling impulses than horse stealing. Gov. Stanton has promised to accompany the delegation, but he is now detained at Leavenworth by the late heavy rains, as the streams intervening are not fordable.

To prove that no agreement or compromise made between the citizens or officers of Missouri and Kansas, can be relied on to restore peace, I will quote an extract from a letter lately received by a gentleman in this city, from a responsible source in Missouri. He writes—"But you must "not depend on the force of a writ or requisition "from the Governor of this State, (Missouri,) to "take any of the party, (Hamilton's,) as the mar"shal or constable will neither serve a writ on "them, but will inform them to get out of the way. "But for the good of society, for the welfare and "honor of this vicinity, for God's sake, kill, or "take out of the way all of the party, or troubles "will not cease for some time."

The author of this letter is a highly respectable citizen of Missouri, and withal the owner of slaves; and such testimony accords, I believe, with the sentiments of three fourths of the permanent citizens of that State, to-day. What then is a warrant good for? Missouri along the border abounds in these bands of adventuring marauders, who live by their plunder; Hamilton leads one gang, Titus another, and so on, and they have become nearly as much a terror to the respectable settlers that side of the line as this.

Now it is charged by some, that Montgomery and his men, in Kansas, are equally vicious and criminal. But he has never committed the first murder, except when attacked in self-defence. He has never invaded Missouri, however great the provocation has been. To be sure, he marched into Westpoint the day following the murder of the five men by Hamilton's party, but he did not cross the line, until invited to do so by a delegation of that town, and on that occasion he did not give the slightest offence to any person. This hullaboo about his assaults and depredations is sheer fabrication, got up to justify their own murders. It is well ascertained that a company from Kansas City and Westport committed the robberies in Johnson County some two weeks ago, for which Montgomery has been cursed by all the Democrats and nigger-drivers in the land. VIGIL.

DROWNED.—Henry Phelps, who figured conspicuously in the railroad conspiracy in Michigan a few years since, and a nephew, aged 12 years, were drowned in the Huron River, at Dexter (Mich.), on the 15th. They were crossing the bridge at that place with a horse and buggy, when the horse became frightened and ran off the bridge into the river. In the effort to extricate the horse, both persons were drowned, as was also the horse. Their bodies had not been recovered when the passenger train passed Wednesday afternoon.

THE GREAT REPUBLICAN STATE CONVENTION.

NINETY-FOUR COUNTIES FULLY REPRESENTED.

Between Fourteen and Fifteen Hundred Republicans in Council.

EVERY MAN FOR LINCOLN.

THE REPUBLICAN STATE TICKET FOR 1858.

"There is Corn in Egypt."

[Special Correspondence of the Chicago Tribune.]

SPRINGFIELD, June 16, 1858.

> "Sound the loud timbrel o'er Egypt's dark sea, > Jehovah has triumphed; His people are free."

The Republicans of Illinois are equal to any emergency. Anticipating only an old fashioned battle with the abandoned Democracy, the Central Committee called a convention, to consist of five hundred and odd delegates. But the people, ascertaining that they have not only assumed the task of "allaying" the Democracy at home, but also that of putting out of joint every meddlesome nose thrust into their dish from abroad, have come up in their might! Nearly ONE THOUSAND delegates, alternates and sovereigns from the different counties are already on the ground, and at this writing (9 A.M.) the number is hourly increasing. I have just been introduced to the delegations from Gallatin, Randolph, Union and Johnson Counties—all in lower Egypt. Not more than half-a-dozen counties will be unrepresented. The delegation from Tazewell will not be here, though regularly elected, in consequence of the execrable state of the traveling. Johnson County, mentioned above, is the one in which only two votes were polled for Fremont in 1856. She now presents three delegates in a Republican State Convention, and will give a good account of herself at the November polls. The Wabash River counties are out in full force. Cook County has seventy or more delegates on the ground. Adams a large number, Madison ditto, Peoria ditto, LaSalle and Will ditto. DeWitt sends her full delegation, and a carte blanche for the "whole county." But it would be impossible for me to give a tithe of the interesting items within the little time before the assembling of the Convention. The State House Square is full of people, and the Chicago City Band are playing some grand National airs on the roof of the building.

MILLER will be nominated on the first ballot. POWELL's prospects are more doubtful. The Southern delegations are all for him—the heavier Northern and Central ones against him. Cook County will give him one half of her vote.

The Delegates met in the Representatives' Hall at 10 A.M., and were called to order by Hon. N. B. JUDD, of Cook, on whose motion Hon. RICHARD YATES of Morgan was elected temporary Chairman.

Mr. Yates took the chair amid loud applause, and returned his thanks to the Convention in a few happy remarks.

Wm. H. Bailhache of Sangamon was then elected temporary Secretary, and Messrs. Geo. T. Brown of Madison, and E. T. Bridges of Whiteside, assistant Secretaries.

Mr. A. C. Hesing of Cook here entered the room with a banner inscribed:

COOK COUNTY
FOR ABRAM LINCOLN!

It was received with enthusiastic applause, the whole Convention rising and giving three cheers for Lincoln!

The call of the roll was then commenced—the counties passing their credentials in to the Secretaries.

Hon. O. H. Browning, of Adams, moved that a Committee of one from each Congressional District, be appointed to examine and report on the credentials of Delegates. Carried.

The Chairman appointed the following persons such committee: 1st. District, C. B. Denio, of Jo Daviess; 2d, Isaac N. Arnold, of Cook; 3d, B. C. Cook, of LaSalle; 4th, Peter Davidson, of Peoria; 5th, Abraham Jonas, of Adams; 6th, —— Castle; 7th, —— Ursery, of Macon; 8th, F. S. Rutherford, of Madison; 9th D. L. Phillips, of Union.

It was then moved and carried that a like Committee be appointed to report officers for permanent organization. The Chair appointed Messrs. Lyman, of Winnebago; Fellows, of Whiteside; Curtis, of Champaign; Arnold, of Peoria; Long, of Sangamon; Munsell, of Clay; May, of Washington, and Olney, of Gallatin.

The Committees retired.

SPEECH OF HON. M. P. SWEET, OF FREEPORT.

Hon. M. P. Sweet, of Freeport, was then loudly called for. Mr. Sweet took the stand. He said that he felt called upon to deny, in behalf of the Republican party, that the principle of freedom was sectional. The shout of sectionalism raised by the Democratic party, was simply the cry of "stop thief" to cover their own grand larcenies. The genius of liberty was the essence of the millennium. The Republican party took the ground that wherever the power of the Federal Government extended, freedom was sovereign, and slavery unknown, except as a calamity. [Applause.] Beyond this the Republican party claimed no power under the Constitution of the United States. We deemed ourselves competent to advise every man in the world, whether the overseer of a Southern plantation or the Czar of Russia, to strike off the chains which hold his fellow man; but beyond this we claimed no power to go, even for the propagation of the life-giving spirit of liberty. The speaker then gave a searching exposition of the triumphant march of the slave dynasty, through the organization of the Northern Democracy. Its principle was that the masses of the North should place in the Presidential chair men who would voluntarily transform themselves from the image of God to platforms! such platforms! [Applause.] To parcel out the offices of the Government in the ratio of one high Secretaryship or foreign mission to prominent negro breeders, to one post-office or light house to sycophants and doughfaces; but above and beyond all must white men never to presume to be the equals of negroes in the free territories of the Union. Kansas, said the speaker, is only an incident of the fight. The great battle reaches yet before us and beyond us. May we never lay down the armor until the Declaration of Independence is again the guiding star of the Republic! [Continued Applause.]

REMARKS OF S. A. HURLBUT OF BOONE.

Dr. Hurlbut of Belvidere, was then called upon, and addressed the Convention. He said that the African party of Illinois was just now divided into factions, and it was a matter of some speculation which fragment was the meanest and blackest. They were fighting each other with the most desperate zeal—an enterprise in which we wish them heartily God-speed. [Laughter.] We were prepared to endorse pretty much everything they could say of each other which was bad. What tales they will tell when the exigencies of the campaign require the whole truth. [Continued Laughter.] The speaker then gave a concise review of the events which led to the Lecompton infamy and the disruption of the Democratic party. The repeal of the Missouri Compromise was the original sin. [Applause.] The Nebraska bill was the source of every event of conspicuous infamy of the past three years. Should the Republicans of Illinois now declare that they were wrong in opposing the popular sovereignty swindle by electing the cunning demagogue who originated it to the highest office in their gift! [Vehement cries of No.] Would the Republicans of Illinois retrogress in their effort, to write a new page in American history? [Cries of no, never.] Shall the Western Republic hereafter be a living fountain of truth and liberty to the world, or a pestilential pool whence proceed the miasma and death of slavery? The doughface's love of slavery is great, but his love of office is greater. Private life is a fearful alternative. [Laughter.] Retirement amid the ripe fruits of an honorable age, might be sweet to the greatest of statesmen, but doubly bitter is the retirement which cuts off the wicked man in the midst of a sinful and mis-spent manhood. Repentance will surely accompany that retirement, though it do no not precede it. [Applause.]

REMARKS OF HON. BURTON C. COOK, OF OTTAWA.

Hon. Burton C. Cook, of Ottawa, was called for and took the stand. He thought that the representations of the party which was to guide the State of Illinois to greatness, were before him. Two years ago we were fighting a dogma of popular sovereignty—a dogma which then had almost as many meanings as there were parallels of latitude. It was defined now to mean that the people of a territory should have no power to regulate any of their domestic institutions! He referred to the National Democratic Administration, and the National Democratic party, for he considered the Douglas party of Illinois outside of any healthy organization—merely an unhappy stumbling block to embarrass the hosts of freedom in their grapple with slavery.

A dispatch was here received from delegations from the southern counties on the Illinois Central Railroad. It was read as follows:

> The Egyptian delegations will be in at 2 o'clock. Stay proceedings until we arrive.
> To Hon. J. K. DUBOIS.

[Received with loud cheering.]

The only inalienable right under our government, continued the speaker, was the right of the nigger-breeder to his slaves and their increase. Shall we not meet this issue in the spirit of those who declared our first inalienable rights? One of our "domestic institutions," said the speaker, was the privilege of electing Abe Lincoln our Senator. [Great applause.] But there was another question of controlling importance which entered this contest. Upon the decision at the polls in November depended the predominance of the Republican or the Democratic party in Illinois for the next five years, and for indefinite years to come. The State apportionments for Legislature and members of Congress, both depended upon the result. If the Democracy were successful, they would bind the Republican party with green withes, from which there would be no Sampson to unloose them. The election of a Senator was only one of the results of the battle—perhaps not the greatest result. Should we not enter upon it with a full sense of its responsibilities?

It being half-past twelve o'clock the Convention adjourned to two P. M.

Afternoon Session.

The Convention re-assembled at two o'clock, and was called to order by the temporary Chairman.

Hon. Wm. Lyman, of Winnebago, from the Committee on Permanent Organization, reported the following:

OFFICERS OF THE CONVENTION.

PRESIDENT—Hon. GUSTAVUS KOERNER, of St. Clair County.

VICE PRESIDENTS.

First District—D N Whitney of Boone, T J Turner of Stephenson.
Second—George W Dole of Cook, Calvin Truesdell of Rock Island.
Third—James O [illegible] of Will, Leonard Swett of McLean.
Fourth—Thomas J Henderson of Stark, Charles Ballance of Peoria.
Fifth—Alex [illegible] of Hancock, Benjamin [illegible] of Schuyler.
Sixth—John M Palmer of Macoupin, Richard Yates of Morgan.
Seventh—J G Bowman of Lawrence, T A Marshall of Coles.
Eighth—F A Carpenter of St. Clair, D H Green of Marion.
Ninth—H M [illegible] of Johnson, D G Hay of White.

SECRETARIES.

W H Bailhache of Sangamon, E T Bridges of Whiteside, J W Edwards of Gallatin, E W Blaisdell of Winnebago, Fred Knapp of St. Clair, John Tillson of Adams, C S Wilson of Cook, L B Webb of Peoria, George Schneider of Cook, J O Johnson of Sangamon, J W McIntosh of Pike.

Gov. KOERNER took the stand amid loud applause, and returned his thanks for the distinguished honor conferred upon him by the Convention. He congratulated the Republicans of Illinois on the prospect before them of overthrowing the apostate Democracy in the coming campaign. He adverted to a few of the prominent events of the late lease of the government to the Democratic party. First, Mr. Buchanan gave the Banks a lecture on political economy. The result was the banks resumed specie payment and the government suspended. [Laughter.] Next, he gave the fillibusters a little lecture—doubtless because fillibustering had turned out badly. The result was that a violent expedition started out immediately to invade Nicaragua, and Mr. Buchanan was more puzzled than he had ever been before in his life, when it was accidentally prevented from spreading desolation in a peaceful province. Third, the Utah Expedition. Why tell again the story of that ridiculous ne sequitur? Fourth, the Lecompton Infamy—the great infamy of the year, whose consummation had been prevented by the united Republican front in Congress. Concerning the other wing of the Democratic party, he would say that we could not withhold our approbation of their course; we could not withhold our admiration. But it was absurd to say that we had gone over to them, when the record showed that a bare dozen of them joined the solid hundred of the Republicans in Congress, in opposition to the Lecompton Swindle and the equally vile English bill. The party represented by the friends of Mr. Douglas would have no existence after the present campaign. It was a mere waif among the great features of the present time. They could come to us and welcome but we could not go to them. [Loud applause.]

Hon. C. B. Denio, from the Committee on Credentials, reported that all the counties in the State were represented except fourteen, and that these were already on the road, and had been heard from by telegraph. OVER FOURTEEN HUNDRED PERSONS were present from the different counties. [Loud applause.] BETWEEN FOURTEEN and FIFTEEN HUNDRED live Republicans from abroad were present to attend the Great Convention. All the delegations were full, and a large number of counties had two or three times their regular number. [Loud and protracted cheering.] The Committee recommended that the delegates from each county be allowed to cast the votes to which they were entitled as they might agree among themselves. Report adopted.

It was then moved that the Chair appoint a State Central Committee. Carried.

THE NOMINATIONS.

It was then resolved that the Convention proceed to nominate a candidate for State Treasurer.

C. L. Wilson Esq. of Cook, moved that Hon. JAMES MILLER of McLean county be nominated by acclamation. Carried with vociferous applause.

Mr. MILLER was declared unanimously nominated.

Mr. Miller returned his thanks in a few courteous remarks.

It was then resolved that the Convention proceed to nominate a candidate for Superintendent of Public Instruction.

Daniel J. Pinkney, of Ogle; Francis Springer, of Sangamon; Prof. Jona Blanchard, of Knox; J. Allison Smith, of Edgar; W. H. Powell, of Peoria; David L. Phillips, of Union; James J. Ferree, of White; Newton Bateman, of Morgan; James F. Jacques, of Adams; T. W. Hines, of Bend; Lawrence Welden, of De Witt; W. T. Hopkins, of Grundy; and W. D. Taber, of Kane, were put in nomination.

The counties were then called, with the following result:

Whole number of votes	[illegible]
Necessary to a choice	[illegible]
For W H Powell	[illegible]
Daniel J Pinkney	[illegible]
J Allison Smith	[illegible]
W T Hopkins	[illegible]
Francis Springer	[illegible]
Newton Bateman	[illegible]
Jonathan Blanchard	[illegible]
James F Jacques	[illegible]
W D Taber	[illegible]
D L Phillips	[illegible]
William Hines	[illegible]
James J Ferree	3

There being no choice, it was moved and unanimously agreed to, that the Convention take a recess until five o'clock, to await the arrival of the delegates from whom the telegraph dispatch was received in the morning.

At 5 o'clock the Convention was again called to order.

Additional counties were reported, making the total number of counties represented NINETY-FIVE.

A second ballot was then ordered for Superintendent of Public Instruction.

Mr. David L. Phillips of Union, said that his name had been presented without his consent and he desired to withdraw it. He was not a candidate before the Convention for anything.

The second ballot resulted as follows:

Whole number of votes	[illegible]
Necessary to a choice	[illegible]
For W H Powell	[illegible]
Newton Bateman	[illegible]
Daniel J Pinkney	[illegible]
J Allison Smith	[illegible]
Francis Springer	[illegible]
Thos C Sharp	[illegible]
James F Jacques	7
D L Phillips	5

No one having received a majority of all the votes cast it was ordered that a third ballot be taken. The names of Messrs. Springer, Smith and Jacques were withdrawn; and on motion it was ordered that the voting be confined to the three names receiving the highest number of votes on the previous ballot.

The third ballot resulted as follows:

Whole number of votes	[illegible]
Necessary to a choice	[illegible]
For Newton Bateman	[illegible]
W H Powell	[illegible]
Daniel J Pinkney	[illegible]

Mr. Bateman having received a majority of all the votes cast, was declared unanimously nominated.

The Chairman then announced the

STATE CENTRAL COMMITTEE.

First District—Thomas J. Turner, of Stephenson.
Second District—S. L. Baker, of Cook.
Third District—W. T. Hopkins, of Grundy.
Fourth District—E. C. Geer, of Peoria.
Fifth District—Wm. A. Grimshaw, of Pike.
Sixth District—Richard Yates, of Morgan.
Seventh District—O. C. Hay, of Jasper.
Eighth District—W. K. Green, of Marion.
Ninth District—D. L. Phillips, of Union.
State at Large—N. B. Judd, of Cook; George T. Brown, of Madison.

Hon. O. H. Browning, of Adams, from the Committee on Resolutions, then submitted a report which was read and unanimously adopted—after which the Convention gave three cheers for the Republican platform of 1858. [The lateness of the hour at which this letter is received compels us to postpone the publication of the resolutions until to-morrow.]

A resolution was also adopted cordially approving of the course of the Hon. Lyman Trumbull in the Senate of the United States.

The following resolution was then introduced and adopted with enthusiastic cheers:

> Resolved, That Hon. ABRAM LINCOLN is our first and only choice for United States Senator, to fill the vacancy about to be created by the retirement of Hon. STEPHEN A. DOUGLAS.

The Convention then adjourned with three cheers for the platform, three for the ticket and three for Lincoln.

And so ended the greatest political Convention ever held in Illinois.

Mr Lincoln as I close this letter, is addressing an immense audience. I will send a full report of his speech. W.

The $4,000,000 Treasury Loan.

The preliminary deposits made with the Sub-Treasurer, in this City, at the close of business on Saturday, on account of proffers for the $4,000,000 Treasury Bills to be awarded at noon to-day at Washington, indicate that the bids from New-York alone amount to Twenty-one millions seven hundred thousand dollars. This is a large excess over the bids for the award of the 10th May when $5,000,000 was distributed. The number of bidders, as well as amounts bid for, have been largely increased, and it is not unlikely that the competition from this and other cities will insure better terms for the Government than the Secretary was able to make on his previous awards. This is the last installment of the original twenty millions in Treasury Bills, to be distributed on open competition. The wants of the Government for the next fiscal year, beginning 1st prox, over its ordinary revenues are to be supplied in a different and more permanent form. The Loan bill before Congress, in view of this object, was amended on Saturday so as to increase the total to $20,000,000, and in this form finally passed by both Houses. The rate of interest is limited to six per cent., as in the Treasury Bill Act of the 28th December, but the probability is the Secretary will issue the stock at from 4 to 5 per cent., and invite proposals as the money is wanted, on terms not below par on the rate of interest which the circumstances of the money market on both sides of the Atlantic, at the time, may induce him to fix upon. As the stock will run for fifteen years, ample facilities will no doubt be afforded for offers from foreign capitalists. We understand that Mr. W. W. Corcoran, the Washington banker, is already in Europe, and will probably make it his business, after the terms of the new loan are made public, to open an informal subscription or combination bid in London. The bankers of the Federal Government in that capital, Messrs. Baring Brothers, will probably be consulted direct by the Secretary. There are certainly no obligations resting on that functionary to confine his proposals to this side for the special profit of the New-York and Washington banking cliques who behaved so shabbily last Winter on the introduction of the Treasury Bills.—N. Y. Times 14th.

The Foreign Trade in New York.

The Foreign trade at this port the past week shows an Import entry, including the Dry-Goods table in our last paper, of $2,220,582, against $3,721,178 for the week ending June 13 last season. The Export clearances of Domestic Produce and Miscellaneous Goods, amounted to $1,358,152, against $938,102 same week last year. The excess is mainly in Grain and Flour, which, notwithstanding the low prices, continue to go forward with considerable freedom. The Export of Specie for the week is only $16,616, as against the heaviest shipment of last season, the amount then, for the week ending June 13, being $3,394,891. The Specie balances in the Government office, in this City, on Saturday afternoon, stood $4,803,632 against $6,263,348 at the close of the previous week. This difference of $459,719 should be in favor of the Bank reserve to be averaged this afternoon. On the other hand, some parcels of Gold went to the country in aid of bank resumption in South Carolina, Tennessee, &c. The California remittance will count but one day in the average. The statement, therefore, is not expected to show much change from the last average of $32,790,332. The Banks hold, in addition to their Specie line, over ten millions United States Treasury Bills, (owned or advanced upon,) and some further exchanges of Gold for these Bills will be made in the course of the present week, on the awards at Washington, to be delivered this afternoon.—N. Y. Times, 14th.

Items from the Illinois Bottom.

A gentleman who passed some hours in a survey of the destruction occasioned by the flood on the opposite side the river, informs us that the water produced utter ruin. Among the items he furnished, was the drowning of John Hoffman a German, who was employed in attending the stock on the farm of a Mr. Bosmirow. He met his death while attempting to save the horses and cattle. This occurred on Friday.

Thomas Winstanley's farm, opposite St Louis has about eight acres in wheat, a sample of which was brought to our office, and it is very fine, which will be a total loss; as also 200 acres of corn. The farm is about two feet under water.

The Ames' Farm, which is rented to several tenants, all of whom have their crops entirely destroyed. Mr. Rankin, Mr. Glasgow, Mr. McMurtin, Mr. Paddlefield and Mr. Tibbe, who rent 496 acres, lose $7,000. M. Raymond, who rents another portion of the same farm will lose 7,000. These losses are an evidence of the amount of ruin which has attended the flood.

The [illegible] Bakery, one of the largest in St. Clair city, which adjoins Illinoistown, and which supplies all the surrounding country with bread, floated off yesterday morning at 8 o'clock. Nothing is left but the bake ovens. Large losses have also been sustained in cattle, horses, hogs, etc.—St. Louis Dem. 15th

CONVICTED AND SENTENCED.—The negro boy, John, who made the murderous assault upon a lady of Judge Breese's family, in April last, at Carlisle, in this State, was tried before the Circuit Court of Clinton county, on Monday last. The evidence admitted of no doubt that the negro intended stealing, and, if detected, murder also. He was provided with an axe, and with it gave two blows, which failed to prove fatal only because of the darkness rendering his aim uncertain. The case went to the jury without argument by counsel, and a verdict of guilty was rendered within an hour. The boy, eighteen years old, was sentenced to eighteen years in the Penitentiary.

A Female Lobby Member.

The Washington correspondent of the New York Times gives the following account of a "little bill" which was presented to E. K. Collins, the steamship man, by an "Ohio widow," who claimed to have performed extraordinary lobby service, in behalf of Mr. Collins:

"One of the operations of the lobby here within the past few days, has excited a deal of gossip. Collins being considered able to pay for getting his steamship appropriations through, he has been pretty thoroughly beset; but the climax was reached when the widow of a late deceased member of Congress from Ohio presented him with and required his signature to a bond of $50,000 for services in helping through legislation in his behalf, accompanied by the significant intimation that twenty-seven members were pledged to vote on the Collins appropriations according as she dictated! Collins, of course, demurred to the extravagant demand, but it is supposed he was obliged to come down in something handsome for the extraordinary influence of the female lobby in the person of the Ohio widow. It is said that this time Collins has been a worse victim than ever to the vultures of the lobby, and has been preyed upon and pestered until he is half crazy."

Later from Utah.

ST. LOUIS, June 16.—Col. Thos. L. Kane from Camp Scott May 6th, passed Boonville this evening. He reports that the Governor had returned again, after making ineffectual attempts to arrest the Mormon hegira to the south. Salt Lake City and the northern settlements are nearly deserted; a few persons only remaining to guard the buildings. Forty thousand are said to be in motion, their trains extending miles down the valley. The advanced trains are already 200 miles distant. To evade answering whither bound, they say they are going south. It is supposed their destination is Cedar City, or some part of Sonora.

There were no mules at Camp Scott. Col. Hoffman's trains were met twenty miles from Platte Bridge. Johnston would await the arrival of the peace commissioners. The Indians were annoying the Mormons, calling them squaws, and say they won't fight. Young delivered the government seal, records, &c., which it was supposed were destroyed, to Cumming. There had been heavy rains, extending far west, and the streams were all full.

From China.

NEW YORK, June 16.—The Evening Post states, on the authority of a private letter from China, that the Plenipotentiaries at Shanghai have agreed to make the following demands of the Chinese Government: 1st. The opening of the coast and great rivers of China to foreign commerce. 2d. The access of foreigners to the interior, under the restriction of passports. 3d. A reduction of duties on certain articles of commerce. 4th. The residence of an embassy at Pekin. 5th. Indemnity, but no territory.

ILLINOIS COLLEGE.—The effort to raise $50,000 for the additional endowment of this institution has been entirely successful. We learn from the Morgan Journal, that hard as the times are, the friends of the College, in different parts of the State, have responded to the call for aid with a noble liberality. We hope Illinois College is to have a future of prosperity and usefulness.

DEATH FROM BURNING FLUID.—Miss Adelaide Holley, daughter of ex-Gov. Holley, of Connecticut, died at Stamford on Thursday last, from the effects of being burned in the most shocking manner by her clothes taking fire in consequence of the explosion of a fluid gas lamp on the Tuesday previous.

EXPERIMENTS ON THE ATLANTIC CABLE.—A private letter from an intelligent gentleman and a practical telegrapher, who witnessed on the 29th ult., at Plymouth, England, the formal tests of the several electricians in telegraphing through the entire length of the Atlantic cable, states that Prof. Hughes, with his wonderful printing telegraph machines, was able to write through the 2,500 miles of cable, at the rate of thirty two letters per minute, equal to about seven words, a degree of success which was as unexpected as it was gratifying. Prof. Whitehouse was only able to write at the rate of nineteen words in eighteen minutes, and Prof. Thomson was utterly unable to work at all through the cable.

CHRISTIAN LIBERALITY.—One of the Eastern Methodist papers gives an account of a society which deducts the value of the presents made to the minister from the amount of his salary, even if given by outsiders to his grown up children!

Those people would like to go to heaven without paying for it!

TARIFF MEETING.—A large and enthusiastic Tariff Meeting was held in Philadelphia on the 15th inst. HENRY C. CAREY presided, and speeches were made by Senators COLLAMER of Vermont, SIMMONS of Rhode Island, and CAMERON of Pennsylvania, EDWARD JOY MORRIS of the House of Representatives, and Hon. RICHARD W. THOMPSON of Indiana.

☞ When Harney, the woman-killer, selected by the Administration to operate with the army against Utah, heard the report that Gov. Cumming had been driven out of Salt Lake City, he exclaimed from the fullness of his heart, "By G—d that suits me." When he hears the news of the effect produced in Washington by the dispatches of Gov. Cumming, he will probably find himself non-suited.

THIS INSTITUTION IS DELIGHTFULLY situated on the outskirts of a beautiful forest, within the limits of the city of Cleveland and 2½ miles from the Post Office. The building is new, of brick, and furnished in the best style. The bath rooms are supplied with pure, soft spring water. The large patronage which this establishment is at present receiving from Chicago and other western cities, is a flattering recommendation of its popularity and flourishing condition. Dr. Gross and lady, formerly of the Lake View Water Cure near Chicago, are connected with this institution.
Letters of inquiry to either of the Physicians, will receive prompt attention.

American Genius Triumphant!
ATWATER'S
$15 Sewing Machine,
AWARDED THE FIRST PREMIUM AT the New York State Fair, Oct. 9th, 1857—Singer's, Wheeler's and Wilson's high-priced machines in competition.
COMMITTEE OF AWARDS:
J. C. CUYLER, Editor of Albany Evening Express.
H. OVIATT, Esq., Practical Machinist and Manufacturer, Rochester, N. Y.
PHINEAS STANTON, Secretary of Ingham University, N. Y., and CALVIN HURBERT, Esq., New York.
This Machine has been pronounced by scientific and skillful mechanics to be the most durable, practical and complete Machine ever invented, or that can be during the present century. It is in fact the most reliable Machine ever offered to the public, as will readily be seen upon examination. Its chief excellence consists in its astonishing simplicity.
The principle is entirely new and original, and wholly unlike any other Machine in the world. Its durability exceeds the best $150 Machine, because it is entirely divested of anything like complicated machinery, so common to all machines now known to the public. It has neither hopper, hook, shuttle, spring or cam, to get out of order, and is most effective in its operation, as any one can readily see upon a slight examination. It is emphatically THE Machine for the people. It has but to be seen to be admired, and used to be appreciated.
Anybody can use it, and everybody will have it.
This Machine stands upon its own merits, and is itself its best reference. We court the most rigid investigation and severest scrutiny of the skeptical, feeling assured that will result in a perfect confirmation of the facts above stated.
The Patent is well secured in all points, and this being wholly unlike any other Machine, is entirely free from the slightest infringement.
The subscribers have the sole and exclusive agency for the United States and Territories for this most valuable monopoly, and now offer a portion of the Territory for sale, either by States or Counties, upon an equitable and fair basis.
The public are respectfully invited to call and examine the Machines for themselves at our rooms, 433 Broadway, New York.
☞ We would be pleased to send descriptive circulars to all who wish to become thoroughly posted in the merit of the article.

CHARLES'
LONDON CORDIAL GIN
THE
Original and only London Gin Imported.
THIS GIN, DISTILLED IN LONDON from sound Barley, under the surveillance of the British Excise Laws, is distinctly flavored with a tincture of the Italian Juniper Berry and some of the most valuable renovative of the vegetable kingdom, rendering it, in the opinion of the most eminent medical men, the purest and safest stimulant diuretic drink in use.
It is a delicious drink, of a soft and delicate flavor, differing entirely from any other Gin, and devoid of the harsh, acrid taste, which renders the article known as Holland Gin or Schnapps, so objectionable.
Though not intended as a medicine, it is recommended by physicians generally in cases of Dyspepsia, Gout, Rheumatism, Dropsy, Gravel, Colic, Cholera, Fever and Ague, Strictures, Diseases of the Urinary Organs, the Kidneys and the Bowels, Nervous Debility, &c., while the weaker sex will find by its adoption a sure relief from those distressing annoyances which frequently attend their delicate organizations.
Dr. Valentine Mott, of New York, the highest medical authority, pronounces Charles' London Cordial Gin "not only superior to any other, but the best article of the kind he has ever seen."
It is peculiarly adapted to settlers in the Southern and Western States, as well as for travelers exposed to changes of water and air.
For sale in quarts at seventy-five cents, and pints thirty-eight cents, by all Druggists, Grocers, Fruiterers and Country Merchants. Beware of imitation. Buy only "Charles'." None other is genuine.

FRIDAY MORNING........................JUNE 18.

THE CALAMITY TO THE PENNSYLVANIA.

180 Lost and Missing.

STATEMENTS OF PASSENGERS.

Incidents of the Disaster, &c.

We published on Tuesday morning a telegraphic dispatch giving a brief account of the terrible disaster to the steamer Pennsylvania, which occurred on the Mississippi, about 70 miles below Memphis, on the morning of the 13th inst. We find further details of the accident in the St. Louis papers of the 16th, from which we extract:

[From the St. Louis Republican, 16th.]

From passengers of the Pennsylvania who arrived in this city by railroad last evening, we have received full statements, to be found below. They embrace all that was known here last evening concerning this awful calamity, but give very few additional names of the lost, missing or saved.

STATEMENT OF MR. W. G. MEPHAM.

The steamer Pennsylvania left New Orleans on the 9th inst., with one hundred and twenty-five cabin passengers and one hundred and fifty-eight deckers. She afterwards took on board, at Baton Rouge, Natchez and Vicksburg, 62 passengers, and at Napoleon 10. There were 40 deck hands and firemen; 34 of the steward's crew, and 16 officers—making in all 450 souls.

Out of this number, 1[illegible] were rescued by a wood boat, and about 70 others escaped in various ways. These numbers include the wounded and scalded. About 180 are lost and missing.

At about six o'clock on the morning of the 13th inst., when the boat was about 70 miles below Memphis, she exploded four of her boilers, while under way. At the time of the explosion, she was near 300 yards from shore. The cabin was torn to pieces forward of her wheel house. Very few of the passengers were out of their staterooms at the time. The passengers in the after part of the cabin—men women and children—rushed out, and the utmost confusion ensued among them, all supposing the boat was on fire, from the smoke and steam which came rushing through the cabin.

After close examination it was ascertained that the boat was not on fire, and the excitement was in some degree quelled.

After the explosion the boat commenced drifting down with the current, and an anchor was thrown overboard for the purpose of checking the boat, for at that time we were of opinion that we could prevent the boat from taking fire. But the water being so deep and the current so swift, the anchor dragged and the boat continued to drift down. As quickly as possible Capt. Klinefelter and two or three of his men made an attempt to carry a line ashore by the yawl, but from the line being too short, or some other cause, they did not succeed. Without losing a moment's time the Captain ordered the yawl turned down stream to a Mr. Harris' wood-yard, for the purpose of bringing an empty wood-boat, which was lying there, to the rescue. This boat was not supplied with oars, and it was an exceedingly difficult matter to accomplish this purpose, but by dint of skill and hard labor the Captain succeeded in getting it alongside.

In from three to five minutes from the time the wood-boat touched the steamer, it was discovered that the Pennsylvania was on fire.

The fire appeared to issue from about the after end of the boilers, and in one minute from the time of the alarm, the boat was wrapped in flames. Passengers and crew immediately rushed from the burning boat upon the wood-boat, and filled it as full as they could stand. The most intense excitement prevailed on board the wood-boat, as we endeavored to propel it from the burning mass—as we had only a few boards, in place of oars, and the crowd rendered it almost impossible to work them with success. But we finally succeeded in getting her bow turned out, so that the current struck her stern and swung the wood-boat around, and by that means we cleared the burning boat, and she drifted by, but not until many of the passengers were severely scorched. But by turning our backs, and with the aid of a few counterpanes and quilts which were saved, we screened ourselves from the heat, as much as possible, and finally succeeded, after drifting one mile, in reaching an island or towhead, called Ship Island, where the wood-boat was made fast to some trees.

After shoving the wood-boat from the steamer, there were a good many deck passengers seen rushing out with their trunks, boxes, &c., in the hope of saving their little stock of plunder, and by trying to save their effects, they lost their lives, for it was impossible for us to render them any assistance. I remember seeing one man and woman, who, from their appearance, were German emigrants, hanging to a line from the stern of the boat—the man holding the line with one hand and his chest with the other; and as the boat swung around, they disappeared from view. They, doubtless, remained in this position until they were compelled, by the heat of the flames, to loose their hold, and drown. The cabin passengers, with the exception of one or two, behaved with great coolness and decision, and rendered one another every assistance in their power, but among the deck passengers the greatest excitement prevailed. It seemed that all they cared for was to save their plunder, throwing it over the guards into the wood-boat, not heeding where it fell. A number of passengers in the wood-boat were bruised and injured by the falling of the trunks and boxes into the boat. From this disposition to save baggage, many of the deckers were lost, who would otherwise have saved their lives.

About twenty-five of the wounded escaped on the wood-boat, amongst them were the first mate, second engineer, two Frenchmen late of the Theatre d'Orleans, Col. Harris, of Arkansas, badly scalded, and others very badly cut and bruised—mostly deck passengers. They suffered very much in consequence of there being no medical attendance to dress their wounds, and no means of procuring any for the space of two hours. But at length neighboring planters from the Arkansas shore brought some linseed oil and linament, which, with the aid of cotton taken from the quilts, gave some relief to the wounded. The scalded victims suffered much from the heat of the sun, as the whole country was overflowed, and we could not succeed in getting the boat to the main land, and in this condition we were obliged to remain under a broiling sun for fully eight hours. The women and children who were unhurt also suffered excessively from the heat of the sun and hunger. After remaining on the Island eight hours, the steamer Imperial (bound down) came to our relief, and after giving us a good dinner, put us on board of the Kate Frisbee and Diana, bound up. Too much praise cannot be given to the officers of these boats for the kindness they extended to us.

The Diana being crowded with passengers, very few of us came up on her; the greater portion of our company going on the Frisbee, which the Diana left behind. It was the intention of the Captain of the Frisbee when we left, to try and save all he could, and pick up scattering passengers along the shore. The Diana brought up fifteen of the wounded to Memphis to be taken to the hospital. The passengers on the Diana raised a subscription of between two and three hundred dollars towards defraying the expenses of the sufferers in Memphis. They also made up several purses for destitute women who were aboard. Altogether, they acted very magnanimously in the way of supplying the women and children, who were scantily dressed with garments.

Mrs. Witt of St. Louis, who was lost, occupied with her daughter, Mrs. Fulton, room No. 8, in the gentlemen's cabin. Mrs. Witt was taken from the ruins just as the fire broke out, perfectly blind, and in a dying condition; by that time the wood boat had left the steamer, and a young man, who was endeavoring to rescue her, was compelled to jump overboard, and swim to the woodboat to save his own life. Mrs. Fulton was not seen after the explosion. There was a man buried in the wreck who, from his expressions, must have been either a sugar or cotton planter—as in his despair he said he had money, negroes, and a plantation, and would give all to save his life. He was covered deeply in the ruins and the fire coming on so rapidly it was impossible to rescue him. A gentleman passenger had gone to the boiler deck just before the explosion, and the next thing he recollected was being precipitated to the main deck amongst fragments of the boat, and pinioned to the deck by the boat's bell, which in falling, caught him around the neck, which, together with other fragments, rendered it impossible for him to move. By the timely aid of the passengers he was rescued from his perilous position and, escaped without much damage.

At the time of the explosion, Capt. Klinefelter was in the barber shop being shaved, and at the explosion the barber says—the Captain exclaimed: "Oh my God! what is that?" He hurried out through the back door and climbed upon the hurricane roof, as all the forward part of the boat was blown to pieces.

Nearly all the deck hands were either killed or missing—first and second mates so badly injured as to render them helpless. First clerk, Mr. Black, and Mr. Brown, pilot, both missing. The Captain had to assume the whole charge of the boat under the trying circumstances. Of the firemen on watch at the time of the explosion, only one was saved, and he stated to me that they had just hauled the coals from the ash pan, and had neglected in some measure to replenish the fires. At that time the engineer came around, and called on them, saying, "Shove her up, boys, for we are scarcely stemming the current;" and he states that they had scarcely put any wood into the fire doors before the explosion occurred. By some miracle this man escaped with only a slight scald in the back.

From the report of those engaged in trying to keep down the fire, barrels of turpentine or some other combustible liquid must have taken fire in the hold, from the rapidity with which the flames enveloped the whole boat, so soon after the alarm of fire. If not for the timely aid of the wood-boat, or if it had been delayed five minutes, there would not have been fifty of us left to tell the tale.

A number of passengers were saved by the skiffs of the neighboring woodmen, who acted very promptly and gallantly in coming to the rescue and picking up those adrift on pieces of the wreck, planks, &c.

One of the wounded musicians states that he had 20,000 francs on board, which were lost. Of course, all the boat's money, books and papers were lost.

A Mr. A. L. Bartlett, of New York, had $800 in gold in a small box in his trunk, but in the confusion the money was forgotten. Not a trunk or piece of clothing, save what they had on, was saved by any cabin passengers, and most of them were left without funds. Those who had money divided with those who had none, and all seemed perfectly satisfied to have escaped with their lives.

The wreck floated down about two and a half miles, and landed on the point of the towhead, where it burned to the water's edge. All that could be seen of it, when we left, were some portions of the machinery and one of the boilers. When the river falls, the wreck will be left high and dry.

Nearly all who were lost died from the immediate effect of the explosion. What exceptions there were, were deck passengers, who endangered themselves by an over anxiety to secure their baggage and effects. The cabin passengers generally abandoned their baggage, and were content to save their lives. As to the number of persons, no correct list can be supplied, as the register was lost. The cabin berthed 120, and it was entirely full. An approximate estimate of the deck can only be arrived at by considering the amount collected of them, which was $476, and that on the first day out. The price of passage for each was $3. This would make only 160 persons. We took on besides 20 coal-boatmen at Baton Rouge, one of the number told me that only six of the twenty were alive after the explosion. They were from Louisville. Officers and crew numbered eighty. This would make in all 380 persons on board of the steamer, and the number is by no means overstated. Of those saved I counted 181 on the flat. Twenty-five more were taken to the shore by the life-boat, part of them from the flat, to lighten her up, before this count was made. Twenty were picked up by the Diana, making 226 saved, and 154 lost or missing. Some of the latter may have got on shore.

Mr. Dennis, of New Orleans, formerly editor of the Delta, and more recently of the Magnet, was on board. A few moments before the explosion I saw him, and think he must have gone to the forward part of the boat.

STATEMENT OF HENRY SPENCER.

Col. Talbott, from Mississippi, had a negro boy with him, who was blacking his boots. Neither of them were ever seen after the accident.

A gambler from Texas, a tall, fine looking man, who wore spectacles and was slightly bald, was lost. Two other gamblers were on board, and were lost, unless they got off at Helena, thirty miles below, which they may have done. One, I think, lived there, as he spoke of his wife being there.

Of the Steward's force, it is remarkable that but one was lost, and he was the second steward. Not one of the others was even seriously hurt. They happened to be preparing breakfast and were about the pantry, a locality not much exposed to danger. About twenty-five persons were under his direction. Emory, (colored) second steward, passed forward and was never seen again.

Another priest besides Father Delcross, (lost,) was so seriously injured that no hopes were entertained of his recovery. He was put off at Memphis, and his cousin got off there to attend to him. He was scalded terribly, and his lower extremities were literally boiled; and he was dying, in fact, when last seen. He was going, I think, to some college in Maryland, and was a talented and learned man. He was so scorched and scalded that he looked like a negro.

The telegraphic account confuses the names as well as the fate of the 1st and 2d Engineers. It was James Dorris, the 1st Engineer, who was fatally hurt. His brother, Francis Dorris, the second, escaped with little injury. The same account mentions William Jackson as bar-keeper. I was bar-keeper and Jackson, who is quite a lad, was my assistant. He was unhurt.

I knew the names only of those I chanced to come in contact with. There were very many lost I did not know, and whose names will never be learned. All the cabin passengers, situated beyond the centre passage of the boat were saved.

A gentleman and his wife, who occupied a room forward of the cabin division, died most horribly, having burned alive. In the fall of the rubbish caused by the explosion, they were caught under a heap of ruins of the fallen rooms, and a boiler fell on that. He implored the others to extricate them, and offered all he was worth. The attempt was made, but it was impossible to save them, as the boat was on fire.

One of the French Opera Troupe was injured so that he will die.

[From the St. Louis Democrat, 16th.]

STATEMENT OF HON. WASHINGTON KING.

Mr. King was not on board of the Pennsylvania, but left New Orleans on board the Diana, which rescued a portion of the passengers. Upon arriving at the place where the Imperial lay, the Diana found alongside of her the steamer Kate Frisbee.

THE APPEARANCE OF THE CABIN OF THE KATE FRISBEE.

Mr King says the cabin floor of the Kate Frisbee presented the most horrible sight he ever witnessed. From one end to the other lay, huddled together, the wounded, the dying and the dead. The air resounded with the cries of sorrow or of pain, and the voice of the dying, growing fainter and fainter, until the lips were sealed, made an impression upon the mind never to be erased.

THE IMPERIAL.

The Imperial was also crowded with survivors. Her cabin floor was put to the same use as the Frisbee, and every officer on either boat, spared no pains to render every assistance it was in their power to afford.

PASSENGERS RESCUED BY THE DIANA.

The Diana took about 100 of the survivors from the Imperial, and about 23 or 24 of the badly wounded. She left the wounded at Memphis, where they were taken to the hospital. Half of them at least, could not possibly recover.

The passengers of the Diana contributed $200 towards defraying the expenses at the hospital. As many of the survivors as desired to do so, came up on the Diana to Cairo.

THE OPERA TROUPE.

There was an opera troupe on board the Pennsylvania, on their way from New Orleans to St. Louis. Most of the male members were killed. Some three or four were put off at Memphis by the Diana, to be conveyed to the hospital. There was a large portly man in the company, whose name is not known, who was put off at Memphis. His hands and arms were burned to crisp, and from his internal sufferings, it was evident he had inhaled the hot steam. He used to sing with Madame Davries, in this city; a base singer, wore a large moustache, and was of a very heavy build. He cannot possibly survive.

CAUSE OF THE EXPLOSION.

The first fireman on the Pennsylvania has been on her since her first trip. He states that they had just cleaned out the fire bed and started fire, when the explosion took place. He attributes the cause to a want of water in the boilers. There were two explosions in quick succession. He was blown into the water over the side of the boat.

THE EXPLOSION.

The boat separated from a line drawn across the boat from the barber-shop and pantry. Those who were in the forward part were all more or less injured—those in the aft portion were scarcely touched. A double state-room was divided by the partition of the boat; those in the forward berths were killed—those in the rearward cabin were not in the least burned.

It was thought that there were about 30 ladies in the ladies' cabin at the time of the explosion. None of them were injured at that time, but on the wreck that was consumed by fire there were many ladies.

OFFICERS OF THE BOAT.

The first engineer was asleep in his berth, and so badly scalded that he died soon afterwards. Mr. King did not see him.

Pilot, Mate, and First Clerk, were in the pilot house, and all were blown overboard. The Pilot has not been heard from since. The Mate was very badly scalded, and can scarcely survive.

At the point of disaster, the river is at least two miles wide. The whole country is submerged. There was no hope for the very best of swimmers. The river swept with tremendous force through the chute and bottoms, and in a very short time all that could be seen of the ruin was a smouldering mass resembling burning brush, half smothered by water.

CAPT. STURGEON, OF THE DIANA.

Too much credit cannot be given to Captain Sturgeon of the Diana. Prompt to obey the call of humanity, he spared no time, no exertion in rendering all the assistance in his power, and put his boat back fifteen or twenty miles in order to rescue any of the survivors.

The frequency with which these unutterable horrors transpire on our waters, suggests many weighty reflections. Something in our marine police laws is radically, may we not say atrociously, wrong. Surely, no merely plausible excuses weigh a hair in exonerating from blame those beneath whose supervision these soul-harrowing tragedies are permitted to transpire.
